WASHINGTON SCENE — Jonathan Mitchell, left, former Washington magazine writer appeared before Senate internal Security subcommittee which has resumed its inquiry into Henry Deter White case. Mitchell was expected to tell his experiences with former Treasury Secy. Henry Morgenthau and White, long a key official in Treasury Dept. Pres. Eisenhower, center, told a nationwide radio and TV audience Monday night the United States will not start a hydrogen war but is prepared to strike back with full force if one is started in "a fit of madness." Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.), right, told Washington reporters Tuesday Pres. Eisenhower had failed to make adequate use of his great power to check "intemperance" of some Congressional Red-hunters. Sen. Kerr praised "magnificent courage" of the President's Monday night's address. — NEA Telephoto

Senate Probers Have New Man for Hearing

HERBERT FOSTER

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Karl E. Mundt said today an attorney that "Joe McCarthy never heard of" has tentatively accepted the job of counsel of the McCarthy-Army investigation subcommittee. The subcommittee is satisfied with his background. Mundt (R-SD) did not reveal the attorney's name. He told newsmen that subcommittee interviewed the attorney this morning and hoped to be able to announce his appointment late today. Mundt, temporary chairman of the subcommittee, said the man "definitely would not be available unless we make a further check" of his background. "We're not to believe that if we could tell him we made a complete check and are completely convinced, he'd say yes," Mundt said. The announcement came just one day after the resignation of Samuel P. Sears, the first man picked as counsel for the televised public hearings. Sears, a Boston attorney, quit under fire yesterday only five days after he was appointed. Sears had told the subcommittee he had taken no stand on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), but 1952 news stories disclosed that he had praised the senator warmly. The subcommittee and its prospects apparently were determined to avoid a repetition of the Sears fiasco. Mundt said the attorney was not well-known nationally and the subcommittee had not submitted his name to McCarthy. He said the man did not volunteer for the job, but was suggested by someone else. The departure of Sears, who didn't last long enough to get on the payroll or even "discuss" finances with the subcommittee, probably will delay for several days the actual start of the long-awaited hearings. They had been scheduled to begin early next week but Mundt said "foggy weather may delay them a little."

Council Aims Decision to Pave Walker Street, Passes Two Fire and Building Code Ordinances

Hope City Council in a rather short session last night passed a flock of ordinances, discussed its recent action in voting to pave without cost to property owners along Walker Street to 13th and accepted bids but took no action for repairs to City Hall and the Elk's Building. Two ordinances were passed in accordance with regulations which the city must meet to keep its 6th class fire insurance rating, and a third revised the milk ordinance to conform with specifications set forth by the U. S. Public Health Bureau. The ordinances regulate Building, Moving and Fire Hazard requirements in the city. A couple of aldermen B. L. Rettig and C. W. Tarpley, questioned whether the council acted wisely in voting to pave Walker to 13th without charge to property owners along the route. Actual cost of the paving will run over $2,000. Mayor Wilson defended the move, citing three schools located along the route and that the city was getting about $11,000 annually from the state for road and street improvements. He insisted a paved route between the schools was definitely needed. Aldermen Rettig and Tarpley pointed to the fact that never before had the city assumed full cost of paving a street. All others were either paid for in cash or street improvement districts formed. The aldermen were somewhat alarmed about future paving which residents along unpaved city streets would request free. It never came to a vote but Mayor Wilson issued the following statement concerning the issue today: "After consideration I have decided to re-examine my position with reference to the blacktopping of South Walker Street. I am going to examine the records in the Recorder's office and if they disclose that a majority of the property between 14th street and the south end of the Yerger School property is owned by people who are able to pay their share in an improvement district, then and in that event, I will ask that the matter be reopened. "However, I hope that the street running along the Yerger School property will be blacktopped. For the public convenience I think that the entire portion from Shover Street to 14th Street should be blacktopped. However, if the records disclose that people well

Believes Man Would Miss That Daily Rut More Than Anything If It Was Ever Taken Away

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (UP) — What would you miss most if civilization were destroyed? As I see it, the race of man, heading into the 10th year of the atomic era, is like a small child that awakens in a half-light, looks in sleepy doubt out the window and cries: "Mommy, is the night coming down or the sun coming up? I can't tell." None of us alive, from a baby in its cradle to wise old Winston Churchill, can say for sure whether the world stands in twilight or at the edge of a great dawn. Nobody knows. Nobody. The odds are strong that there will be another war, simply because the tribes of mankind have fought more than 1,000 wars in a brief time on earth... because there is a war going on right now

Cobalt Bomb Is More Deadly Than H-Bomb

NEW YORK (UP) — The most deadly weapon yet which could annihilate all life on earth can now be made successfully a dispatch in the New York Times said today. The cobalt bomb — a hydrogen bomb encased in a cobalt shell — passed from the realm of the theoretical during the recent hydrogen blasts at the Eniwetok proving grounds in the Pacific, New York Times Science Writer William L. Lawrence said in a two-column story in the Times. The story said the explosion of a cobalt bomb would produce a radioactive cloud 320 times more powerful than radium. The cloud, carried by prevailing winds, could travel thousands of miles destroying all life in its path. Prof. Harrison Brown, nuclear chemist at the California Institute of Technology said if a cobalt bomb were set off 1,000 miles west of California "the radioactive dust would reach California in about a day and New York in four or five days, killing most life as it traverses the continent," according to the newspaper. "Similarly," the Times quoted Brown, "the Western powers could explode hydrogen-cobalt bombs on a north-south line about the longitude of Prague that would destroy all life within a strip 1,500 miles wide, extending from Leningrad to Odessa, and 3,000 miles deep from Prague to the Ural mountains. "Such an attack would produce a 'scorched earth' unprecedented in history," Brown told the newspaper. The recent hydrogen tests at Eniwetok virtually proved that the cobalt bomb can be made by any power possessing the know-how of the hydrogen bomb. The cobalt bomb, simply stated, is a hydrogen bomb encased in a shell of cobalt. When the cobalt bomb is detonated the cobalt vaporizes and is transformed into the deadly radioactive cloud. Prof. Leo Szilard of the University of Chicago told the Times that 400 one-ton bombs would release enough radioactivity to extinguish all life on earth. The newspaper concluded that the nature of the weapon itself precluded testing it anywhere in the world but that the Eniwetok hydrogen tests make such tests unnecessary for the two weapons are the same except for the outer casing.

McCarthy Says Delay May Be End of U. S.

By PAT CARR
NEW YORK (UP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy said last night our nation "may well die" because of an 18-month delay in hydrogen bomb research which he implied was caused by Communists in the government of former President Truman. "If there were no Communists in the government, why did we delay for 18 months — delay our research on the hydrogen bomb?" he said "Our nation may well die because of that 18-month deliberate delay. "I ask you who caused it? Was it loyal Americans or was it traitors in our government?" The Wisconsin senator said the delay was deliberate and brought about even though our intelligence agencies "were reporting" day after day, that the Russians were feverishly pushing their development of the hydrogen bomb. He made the charge during a filmed appearance on a CBS television program. The time was allotted him by CBS Commentator Edward R. Murrow to answer a previous attack against McCarthy by Murrow. McCarthy's statement stimulated immediate reaction in Washington. Rep. Sterling Cole chairman of the House-Senate Atomic Energy committee, said this country took a long time deciding to build the hydrogen bomb "but that does not mean there was anything sinister necessarily." Rep. Che Holifield (D-Calif.) a member of the committee, said "I don't know what he's referring to." The same puzzled reaction was expressed by Sen. John O. Pastore (D-R.I.) another committee member. Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said he did not hear McCarthy's remarks and therefore should not comment. A chief argument against development of the H-bomb was that A-bombs were sufficient. Some objected to H-bombs on grounds

Auxiliary of Hope Firemen Plans First Aid Classes

The newly organized Fireman's Auxiliary will start a first aid class Thursday night, April 8, at 7 o'clock at the Fire Station. Classes will be held two nights a week. Mondays and Thursdays for five weeks. J. W. Cunningham, certified American Red Cross first aid specialist, will be instructor. He will be assisted by other fire department members. Individuals interested in taking this first aid course are welcome.

AEC Reports Another Blast Is Successful

WASHINGTON (INS) — Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis Strauss announced today that the third weapon in the present atomic-hydrogen test series was successfully exploded in the Pacific yesterday. Strauss' terse announcement presumably referred to a hydrogen bomb blast. Two H-bombs were detonated last month, eclipsing all previous man-made explosions. The AEC chairman said that as in previous tests, an air-sea search of a vast area was conducted before the blast to make sure that no shipping was in the danger zone. Strauss said of the test: "In formation of great importance to national defense continues to be derived from this test series." Hydrogen devices were set off at the Eniwetok proving grounds March 1 and March 26.

Washington (UP) — President Eisenhower told a news conference today that he knows of no reason to build hydrogen bombs more powerful than the United States now possesses.

The chief executive also told reporters that he is not afraid that Russia might attempt to build progressively larger hydrogen bombs even though this country has no intention of so doing. The President was asked specifically whether, in the last of recent tests in the Pacific, this country intends to build progressively larger H-bombs. He responded by saying that he knew of no military requirement that would lead this country into production of a bomb more powerful than ones which have been produced. This country is now testing hydrogen weapons which Chairman Lewis L. Strauss has said are in the "megaton range" — meaning they loose power equal to millions of tons of TNT. Strauss also said a week ago that H-bombs can be made big enough to put any city in the world out of commission. Congressional sources have said a test blast at Bikini March 1 was a 12-14 megaton weapon. These same sources have said a big test coming up this month will force between 40 and 45 megatons of force.

Nobody Knows Thing About Delay Report

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower said today he knows nothing about an 18-month delay in hydrogen bomb development as charged by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). The President also said he always has regarded commentator Edward R. Murrow, assailed by McCarthy, as a friend. The President's remarks were at a White House news conference, during which he also said the United States has no need to develop a hydrogen bomb bigger than the one it already has. Sen. McCarthy said in a TV speech last night that research on America's H-bomb was deliberately stalled for 18 months despite information that Russia was pushing a similar project. He asked if this delay would have been possible if there had not been Communists in the American government. The senator's speech was in reply to a program, critical of his activities, which Murrow had telecast March 9. McCarthy called Murrow "the leader and the cleverest of the jackal pack which is always found at the throat of anyone who dares to expose Communists and traitors." Eisenhower told questioners he knew nothing about McCarthy's telecast and had never heard of any delay in H-bomb development. Questioned further, he said he was very close to the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission — Lewis L. Strauss — and the chairman never has mentioned such a thing to him.

Unemployment Leveling Off, President Says

By DAYTON MOORE
WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower reported today the unemployment cycle show very definite signs of flattening out. He also told his news conference he finds other day-to-day sources of encouragement in the economic picture. Government economists said record high new construction so far this year was the most favorable economic sign since the business decline started last summer. The government reported last night that new construction expenditures rose to a record $7,283,000,000 for the first three months of this year, about $100,000,000 more than for the same period in boom 1953. Mr. Eisenhower said that while the American economy is not a static thing, he finds encouragement in March employment and unemployment figures. Total employment rose 50,000 in March. Unemployment increased by about the same figure, thus appearing to cancel each other. These figures, the President said, reflect a very definite flattening out of the curve in unemployment. Furthermore, he said he and his economic advisors have found other encouraging signs from day to day. He asked that the government remains instantly ready to give those signs of improvement a boost wherever possible and whenever needed.

All Around the Town

By The Star Staff
An interested citizen came by this morning and took this report over the controversial Walker Street and showed how Edgewood could be opened in a straight line (something very unusual in Hope) from Second to 23rd Street... this would give the city a straight route through a block of Brookwood, Yerg and Hope High School behind in the future connecting with 23rd where someday Highway 97 will probably be rerouted around the city... in fact the project was all set even so far as a survey but was suddenly abandoned probably because a couple of property owners beefed... this route makes sense as I see it... Walker Street splits the Yerger School property squarely in half and its no secret school officials want to close it before a tragedy occurs... paving Walker, despite the six terrible jogs, would only serve as another speedway... in fact the jogs could prove to be a challenge to young daredevil drivers... at least two citizens this morning brought up the Edgewood project, wondering why it wouldn't be a much better solution to the way around

Arkansas Demos to Pay Full Quota
LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Leffel Gentry, head of the Democratic party in Arkansas said today of pay party is in the process of paying in full its 1953 quota to the national committee. He said that Banking Commissioner A. R. Morrill left yesterday for Washington to deliver a check for $7,500 to the national committee state quota for 1953 of $15,000 of the state quota for 1953 of $15,000. The money was raised at the recent Jackson-Jefferson Day dinner of which Gentry was chairman. The 1954 quota also was $10,000, and Gentry said that none of it had been raised.

A-Bomb Ban Left Up to Russia

By CHARLES M. McCANN
UP Staff Correspondent
The United States, Great Britain and France have called a meeting of the United Nations Disarmament Commission to give Soviet Russia another chance to say whether it really wants to ban A-bomb and H-bomb warfare. The meeting was called also to quiet fears all over the world, from London to Tokyo not to mention from New York to San Francisco—that a holocaust might result from a third world war. The disarmament commission meets at U. N. headquarters in New York Friday. Its job will be to make a sub-committee which will seek a basis for agreement on disarmament, and especially on the prohibition of nuclear weapons. Soviet Russia will be the key nation. Its representative will be, as he has been so many times in the past, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, its chief U. N. delegate. There is no reason to believe that Russia is ready to permit the one thing that would make a ban on the A-bomb and the H-bomb possible that is, inspection of Russian facilities by teams of U. N. experts.

Jehovah Witness Is Convicted

LITTLE ROCK — A Menn member of the Jehovah's Witnesses yesterday was convicted of draft evasion. Alker Dale Boston Bates claimed he should have been exempt from military service because he was a ministerial student. The presidential appeals board had classified him I-A. Federal judge Harry Lemley instructed the federal court jury that it must not consider the defendant's classification, but the charge of failure to submit to induction into the armed services. Bates was the second conscientious objector to be convicted of violating Selective Service laws within two days. Bill Edgar Passmore of Greenbrier was convicted Monday. A third case, charging that William Kay Moser, a Huntsville Church of Christ pastor, failed to submit to induction is being presented to another jury today.

Witnesses Heard in Costello Case

NEW YORK — The government called more witnesses today at the income tax evasion trial of Frank Costello to detail the gambler's financial dealings back to 1937. Three witnesses testified yesterday following opening statements by prosecution and defense counsel in federal court. Costello, 62, is on trial on charges of evading $73,437 in income taxes for the years 1940-1949. Ambergis, once a treasure hunter, was found by a jury to have replaced in the perfume industry.

Lindbergh Is Named to Air Commission

WASHINGTON (UP) — Air Secretary Harold E. Talbott today named Charles A. Lindbergh and two other civilians to a five-member commission which will propose a site for the new Air Force academy. The other civilian members of the commission are Virgil M. Hancher, president of the University of Iowa, and Merrill C. Meigs, vice president of the Hearst Corp., Chicago, and World War II consultant on aviation to the War Production Board. Military members of the commission, whose names already had been made public, are Gen. Carl Spaatz, retired, first chief of staff of the Air Force, and Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon, special assistant to Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Chief of Staff, on Air Force academy matters. Lindbergh, who has been a frequent adviser to the Air Force was confirmed by the Senate last week as a brigadier general in the Air Reserve, a post to which President Eisenhower recently nominated him. Under a law signed by Mr. Eisenhower last week, the new air academy will be selected by the secretary and the selection will not be subject to congressional approval. Talbott, however, is required to select the site proposed by the commission if the recommendation is unanimous. Otherwise, he must choose a site from among the first three proposed. In view of that, Talbott surprised Pentagon officials with a quotation attributed to him yesterday. A dispatch from Battle Creek, Mich., quoted the secretary as saying that the Port Custer area was "the best site I've seen... there may be a better site somewhere, but if there is I don't know about it." There was law authorizes $126,000,000 for the academy, of which $1,000,000 may be spent on a temporary site which will begin functioning in June, 1955, and carry on until the permanent structure is ready for business, expected in 1957. Members of Congress already have been asked to nominate candidates for the first class. Theater to Reopen on Easter Sunday LITTLE ROCK — A downtown Little Rock theater, closed by the Arkansas Amusement Co., March 27, will be reopened Easter Sunday by "popular demand." James S. Carberry, manager of the firm, said yesterday the Arkansas Theater will charge lower admission prices — because of the federal excise tax cut — and show "first run products." At the time the theater was closed, company spokesman said they were unable to obtain enough quality pictures to operate the theater profitably.

McCarthy Says

Continued from Page One they would hasten a civilization destroying war. A few scientists questioned whether an H-bomb could be constructed successfully but most believed it could. The eventual decision to go ahead with its construction was triggered by news that Russia had broken the U. S. monopoly of the A-bomb. McCarthy made no further reference in his statement to the H-bomb delay. His television program had been filmed several days in advance. At the time it was shown he was in Tucson, Ariz. the Mirror announced the appointment yesterday. The Mirror is a member of the Hearst group. Neville joined the Mirror staff in 1936 after working for the Rocky Mountain News in Denver. He was named executive editor in 1943 and had served as editor for more than a year during Lait's illness. with his wife on a three day vacation and could not be located for additional comment. McCarthy traced briefly the history of communism for the last 100 years which he said was necessary to reply to the charges made against him by Murrow. He said 400,000,000 Chinese were delivered to Communist slave masters by "the jackal pack of Communists lying propagandists." He said communism would not have been "rewarded" with all of Manchuria, half of the Kurile Islands, and one half of Korea had there been no Communists in our government. McCarthy sat at a desk for the filmed program and used maps to show areas under Red domination. He spoke clearly and deliberately, occasionally clenching his fists. He abandoned the fiery oratory he has often used in the past. UN Group to Study Arms Abandonment UNITED NATIONS, N. C. (UP) — The United Nations Disarmament Commission meets Friday at the request of the United States, Britain and France to discuss means of ending the hydrogen bomb race. The discussion, expected to see a revival of Russian demands for immediate and unconditional prohibition of atomic and hydrogen weapons — but without any means of inspection — highlights a week of major political developments. The explosive Palestine issue comes up Thursday when the security council meets at 3 p. m. to discuss Israel's charges against Jordan and Lebanon's demand for council action against Israel for alleged violations of the armistice.

DOROTHY DIX

Domineering Mother

Dear Miss Dix: I am 31 years old single and living with my mother who is 53. She is a widow and has been in this country for 40 years. She owns her own home, renting one apartment. Mother has always been domineering — she made my father's life miserable with her constant nagging. She has never liked me to have friends and has broken up several of my budding romances.

Sometimes she didn't like the boy's looks, or the way he dressed. Always there was a trumped-up excuse, and to keep peace I'd break off with them.

She has even embarrassed me by calling up a boy's mother to tell her to keep the young man home. Now I have met a man where I work and we are becoming very fond of each other. I doubt if Mom can break up this romance. However, after trying all the old arguments, she came up with a new one. A fortune teller told her that she was not the right one for me, and that I'd be happier if I waited.

My beau has rosy dreams of marrying me and having mother live with us. Obviously he's not aware of her dispositions. I love my mother and have done everything I could to make her comfortable and happy, but don't feel that I should tie myself down to her tantrums for the rest of my life. I hate to hurt her, but I do want a life of my own.

Life With This Mother
Answer: Your mother's dramatic efforts to keep you at home transcend the reasonable and I'm afraid you'll have to be equally dramatic to free yourself. I have done considerable editing on your long letter but the details certainly present a complete picture of life with mother, as well as the compatibility of you and your young man. If you remain at home frustrated and bickered, you'll soon reach a point where you'll be no good to either yourself or your mother.

Leaving for a home and family of your own will help bring everyone's condition to a more normal level. Your mother will certainly rave and rant when you announce your plans, but rest assured there's more than a grain of common sense behind her frenzy and she'll learn to accept facts as they are. The best thing she could do would be to get at least a part-time job. She needs activity and people. Try to interest her in something. Her financial position must be secure, as I'm sure you realize. When she's convinced that you are not leaving her to starve alone, she will be more reconciled to your marriage.

It would be a good idea to have your pastor talk to your mother about her penchant for fortune tellers. A word from him may cure her of that weakness.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm 19 and in love with Ray, who is a year older. He's in the Army now overseas. After he left, he wrote regularly for some months; now I haven't heard from him since Christmas. I have continued writing three or four times a week.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge, the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne, Sr., specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Kellogg Still in Critical Shape
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — The 8-foot-8 Negro cage star whose tip in college basketball remains in a critical condition with injuries suffered in a car wreck.

For five days, Julius Kellogg, the former Manhattan College player turned Harlem Globetrotter, has lain near death.

Attendants at the veterans hospital here say his chances for recovery are "poor."

Kellogg and four other professional basketball players were hurt when the car in which they were riding overturned near Pine Bluff Ark., Friday night. The other four received less serious injuries.

When a member of the Manhattan team, Kellogg told officers he had been asked to shave points by gamblers. An investigation revealed that several college players were involved in fixed games.

Newspapers Hurl Blasts at Churchill

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP) — Even Conservative newspapers lambasted Prime Minister Churchill today for his charge that Clement Attlee's Labor government threw away Britain's war-time exchange of atomic secrets with the United States.

The nominally independent but usually pro-Conservative Times of London said yesterday's House of Commons debate on the hydrogen bomb "degenerated into a sterile, angry and pitiful party wrangle—and the responsibility was the Prime Minister's."

The Liberal, middle-road News Chronicle said the showing of the 79-year-old government chief in the House may foreshadow his early resignation from office, something many observers have predicted would happen this year.

The bitter partisan fight in the wake of Sir Winston's charge generally obscured the action of the House, which on a voice vote called on Churchill to take "immediate initiative" in seeking a face-to-face conference with Soviet Premier Malenkov and President Eisenhower. But the Laborites did not challenge the government's stand that the timing of such an approach should be left to it.

Churchill put the House in an uproar with his charge that it was the "responsibility of misfortune" at Attlee's 1945-51 government that a hitherto secret 1943 agreement for British-American atomic cooperation was no longer in effect.

Warns Sweets Decay Teeth

LILE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Walter C. McBride a Detroit dentist, says youngsters should cut down on the youngsters' spending money for tooth-decaying sweets and encourage a diet heavy on fruits, vegetables and milk.

Dr. McBride made the statement yesterday in a speech at the annual convention of the Arkansas State Dental Association.

He told more than 300 dentists attending the 3-day session that children make better patients than adults and that he keeps parents out of the inner office when he is working on children's teeth. "Children are more tractable," Dr. McBride said. "An adult

The mother of three of the children, Berthene Cumming, was taken to a Memphis hospital for treatment of severe burns suffered when she tried to rescue the youngsters.

Williams said the mother took the two younger children outside when the fire broke out. She returned for the others, and the panic-stricken tots followed her back into the burning house.

The flames spread to the house from a nearby trash fire, said Williams.

knows what to expect when he goes to a dentist, but children will be more likely to accept the dentist, because it's a new experience for them."
